Grumbling in Idaho

According to the Golden Age, the interests of the infant Territory are not much regarded by those who have been elected or appointed That paper, though it worked earnestly to secure the election of Col Wallace, is now exceedingly bitter against him, charging him with utter indifference and neglect of duty as a Delegate, and adds in reference to other functionaries

Not a Federal official within the confines of this extended Territory (except a Secretary who has lately returned a "Commissioner," and three or four little station peddlers) but a copy of the laws in the hands of an individual except the above Secretary nor any certainty when they will be provided Why is all this? We are told there is no appropriation made to pay for these things We believe there is both law and instructions with regard to furnishing the laws, and we do not believe that the Secretary or Executive have any right to hoard or loan it with the public printer Nor do we believe there is any law which exonerates him for violating these instructions

We hope the Golden Age will possess its soul in patience Col Wallace is as good as he was, when it urged his election, and if there were "bogus Lemmie returns," as it intimates, it ought to have exposed them long ago. We do not believe that the Administration will be disposed to retain unfaithful, corrupt or incompetent men in office, if proper representations are made by those who know the facts. If the Marshal or the Secretary have been guilty of any fraud, by which votes have been manufactured or forged, let the truth be told, and told where it will effect their removal from positions, which such conduct must disgrace. If Judges leave their duties, thereby causing disturbance and interruption to the administration of justice, let them be reported, and we are sure that the people of Idaho will find relief Offices there were not made for any man in particular, but for the general good, if the people do their duty.

CAUGHT NAPPING —We learn that the saloon keepers and retail dealers in Wasco county were greatly surprised by the action of the Grand Jury of the Circuit Court, now in session, by which they are indicted for a violation of the State license law. They are all paying the city for the privilege of selling liquor, and supposed the city's license would protect them, but it has been discovered that the charter now in force gives the city no power to issue any license, which can be a substitute for that required by the State law. So the retailers are indicted by wholesale, and business in Court is quite brisk. Naturally some persons growl at the Judge and Prosecuting Attorney, as though they were at fault for observing and enforcing a law which is as binding as any other. That course is very absurd, for hard as the case may seem to be, the fault is not with the Court, which does not make the statute We hope the storm will pass away without any very destructive results, and that the attempt made to create opposition to Judge Wilson, will be frowned upon by every intelligent citizen. Surely, men will not be so foolish as to seek his defeat at the coming election merely because he obeys the law, which by his oath, he is bound to observe If he did less than this, he would be unworthy of his position, and while he does so, he deserves the confidence and support of all who desire that the Judiciary shall be independent, conscientious and faithful.

SPEAKING OUT BOLDLY —The Council Bluff Eagle, a thorough going Democratic paper, after the pattern of the Eugene Review, which does not conceal its opposition to the war, and its sympathy with the South, gives the following daguerreotype of "Modern Democracy," which is some.

If we look back for a few years, we will not fail to discover the class of men who are always on hand at Democratic conventions, and who shaped the policy of the party regardless of principle, so that the policy adopted gave them a prospect of retaining or getting into an office

Its "constitutional" ideas have also exposed a startling discovery, expressed as follows:

The Democratic party has been led for the last few years by men who did not care a straw whether the principles laid down by the party at its convention tended to the continuance of our free institutions, or to their overthrow and the establishment of a monarchy.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR THE SANITARY COMMISSION —A Union man of Jacksonville authorizes us to say that he will be one of ten men, living in Jackson county, who shall each, within the next two weeks, pay to C C Beekman, local treasurer of the Commission, the sum of one hundred dollars in legal tender notes Where is the other nine men to respond to this proposition? Cannot each precinct furnish one? Send in your names for publication No bids from any one man, for less than a hundred, on this offer —Sentinel

A very good suggestion Now, if Jacksonville has ten men who accept the challenge, and we are sure they will be found, then ought to fifty in Portland who will cheerfully follow their example Five thousand dollars thus contributed would be a donation worthy of our city. Who will come down?

The Cincinnati Commercial says that General Michael Corcoran was the chief of the Fenian Brotherhood, and the vacancy occasioned by his death will be filled by General Thomas Francis Meagher

Vermont has a surplus of 3,000 men over her quota under all calls for troops.

A CLERGYMAN'S INTERVIEW WITH GENERAL GRANT —In the Christian Advocate of last week is a letter from the Rev Dr Thomson (the editor) and which details an interview he had with Gen Grant in a railroad car in Pennsylvania, a few days ago. He says

At Altoona, Blair county, Pa, as we went to the cars, we found a crowd on the platform and as we took our seats we learned the reason of it as some one cried out "three cheers for Gen Grant" a salute which was obeyed with zest We were introduced to him and had a very pleasant conversation with him He is a man of medium height and unassuming manners. His dress was plain and in no respect indicative of his rank. The stranger is struck with his youthful appearance He seems to be not over thirty five years of age yet we need not be surprised that he has accomplished so much for few men become great who do not achieve their great deeds in early life

Gen Grant is a Democrat in the true sense of the word He is for the people, all the people. He has none of the aristocrat in the spirit, or the philosophy of an aristocrat Without effort I saw the want of dignity in the air at home at large and everywhere He is very modest, seeking to hide from the public gaze He is high called for by the people but every station was with difficulty he could be persuaded to step from and raise his hat. He made no speeches, but retired in silence, modesty is a mark of merit We never meet with a man of refined without it

In speaking of Gen McClellan he exhibited both good sense and generosity, while not the same time he indicated an intention to avoid his errors He attributed General McClellan's failure to no want of ability or education, but to the fact that he reasoned rapidly, was intoxicated by his ambition, and often to make a bold stroke lost it should be a fatal one Moreover, he unfortunately allowed himself to be manipulated by politicians, and was forced by the false lights which they held out to follow them It such be the view which the Lieutenant General takes and we have no doubt of its correctness, there is ground to hope that he be himself will not be the victim of political wireworkers, but will steadily employ his powers in the right direction and for the right motive, namely, to save the country If so, his contemporaries will honor and reward him, and posterity will award him renown when the political schemes of the time shall all have been doomed to merited oblivion

General Grant is hopeful and while he makes no such extravagant utterances as General Scott and General McClellan did, he yet leads us to understand that events are in train for a decisive spring campaign He speaks in the highest terms of General Sherman, who succeeds him in the Western Department, who, he says, has no superior in the service

Of Gen McPherson, on whom much will devolve, as well as of Gen Gilmore, who is yet to play an important part, each of the two latter graduated at the head of his class. Gen. Sherman would have done likewise but for some demerit marks "That," said the General, "was my case, that is, to have demerit marks—only if they had been canceled I might not have reached the head of my class"

On our expressing a fear that his elevation would take him from the field, he gave us to understand, that although he would have an office in Washington he did not intend to do much office work, but would take the field wherever and whenever he deemed his presence would be most useful We could but compliment him upon the brilliant campaign which brought him successfully to Vicksburg. He replied that it was hazardous, but had to be done

The General's face is not unprepossessing his spirit is genial, and his conversation is indicative of a well balanced, determined and vigorous, but calm mind. Having heard that he was intemperate, we were a little surprised, and not a little gratified, to see no marks whatever of dissolute habits upon him We have, however, pretty good evidence that he has been foolish enough at times to indulge in excess, and that he is easily overcome on such occasions—a good evidence that he is not a habitual drunkard, and a good warning, which we trust will save him in future from such indiscretions. Now that a grateful country crowns him with her highest honors, and intrusts him with her greatest commands, he will surely commit no act unworthy of the observation of the world or imperiling his success He has been well educated religiously, and has, we doubt not, just views of the fundamental principles of the gospel, and profound respect for religious institutions His language so far as we could hear, was circumspect and becoming Turning to one of the papers he said, "I observe here a statement that the President sent for me to attend the theatre, but I have not been there at all."

WEAK SPIRITS —In a late speech delivered in the House of Representatives, H. Winter Davis of Maryland, said:

Doubtful of the issues of the war, exhausted by bloodshed, anxious for peace—peace and independence—there are some who will accept peace and Union, but they are not men who will draw the sword for the United States, and they would be equally content with peace and independence When the overthrow of the rebellion is an accomplished fact, they will acquiesce, when there shall be neither hope nor fear of rebel supremacy, they will submit to what we judge to be necessary for their good and for ours if we will peremptorily declare the conditions necessary to secure republican government But it is the veriest child's dream to suppose that so long as this war lasts, so long as it flames over the Southern country, any portion of the Southern population is willing to cast in its lot with the United States for good or evil, and assume now the responsibility that they declined at the beginning, of standing with us for better for worse, in ruin or triumph. There is no fact that we have learned from any one who has been in the South and has come up from the darkness of that bottomless pit which indicates such repentance There is no fact that any one has stated on authority at all reliable that any respectable proportion of the Southern States now in rebellion are willing to accept any terms that even our opponents on the other side of the House are willing to offer them It has been repeatedly asserted—Governor Seymour, of New York, in his message asserted—that peace could be had upon any reasonable terms That was his guess; it was his wish, it was his fond, vain hope In fact, there was no ground for such hope, and today no man can stand before the American people and say that there is the least reason to suppose that any public man in the South has declared himself willing for peace on any conditions but that of independence.

GILMORE'S GREAT NATIONAL CONCERTS —P. S. Gilmore is one of the great musical geniuses of the age, and has been laudably engaged for a long time giving concerts through the country in aid of sick and wounded soldiers Not long since, he gave a mammoth street concert, at New Orleans, at which there was estimated to be present 15,000 people Gilmore since the war began, has organized twenty two military brass bands, and with a number of these the concert, of which we speak was given A platform had been erected at the intersection of Canal and Tchoupitoulas streets, on the central ground, for the use of the several bands that were to participate in the concert, and at 10 o'clock this was filled with musicians In the centre, towering over all, like Saul in the midst of his warlike hosts, stood Gilmore, the great leader—the gentle movement of whose magic wand would soon cause the silent air to thrill, and vibrate with the swelling music of three hundred instruments The artillery, forty light pieces had all been arranged under the direction of Gen Arnold and from the vent of each piece was a telegraphic wire leading to a galvanic battery that had been erected on the front portion of the platform by Capt. Bulkley, and which was in charge of skillful operators This apparatus was for the purpose of discharging the guns at the proper time required by the music

At the signal for the commencement, which was given by firing three guns, the immense band struck up "Hail Columbia" and as the anthem rose in grandeur, the guns were discharged in rapid succession, shaking the solid earth, shattering window glasses, and waking the echoes, while the lusty cheers of the cavalry made the welkin ring. It created an immense sensation—for such a melodious medley had never before disturbed the air of Canal street The loud roaring of the dread artillery, added to the thrilling music of three hundred instruments, and the wild cheers of two thousand soldiers lent a magnificence to the occasion that is indescribable

The following are the Union nominations in Josephine county For State Senator, J V. R Witt, for State Assembly, S R Scott, Sheriff, T. Floyd, Clerk, Silas Draper, Treasurer, Wm Sawyer, Assessor, Willis Alden, Commissioners, Isaac Thompson and Samuel Harkness, Superintendent of Common Schools, R. J. Forbes, Surveyor, R. R Middleworth, Coroner, L D. Hart

THE CAUSE OF WAR FOREVER WIPED OUT —The Washington correspondent of the Union, thus refers to the vote in the Senate on the proposition to amend the Constitution so as to abolish slavery throughout the United States

"Of matters have pushed this momentous subject aside for the moment, but the vote by which the Senate solemnly decreed that there should be an additional article to the Constitution should not be unnoted The additional article provides "that neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except for punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist in the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction" How hard it is for us to realize that the Senate of the United States has actually passed by more than the necessary two thirds vote an amendment forever taking these words of mighty import How deliciously does public sentiment keep pace with the irresistible logic of events! and here we are standing on the verge of the consummation of the supreme political and constitutional freedom of every man, woman and child beneath the folds of the flag and look at this vote by which the bill passed the Senate

AYES—Anthony Brown, Chandler Clark Collamer Conness Cowan Dixon Doolittle Fessenden Foster Grimes Hale Harding Harris Henderson Howard Howe Johnson Lane of Indiana Lane of Kansas McDougall Morrill Nesmith Pomeroy Ramsey, Sherman Sprague Sumner Ten Eyck Trumbull Van Winkle Wade Wilkinson Wilson Wright—38

NOES—Davis Hendricks Saulsbury Powell Riddle, Saulsbury—6

Only three rebels and Hendricks of Indiana and the unprincipled McDougall of California, voted against the righteous decree, while Maryland, Missouri and West Virginia voted for the proposition Lane, Harding, Nesmith, Conness, Henderson, Nesmith, Johnson, Van Winkle and Wilkinson never before called themselves Republicans, voted for the constitutional abolition of slavery Verily, God's truth moves right on, though cowards fetter and knaves conspire

We will now to see if a vote of two thirds of the House of Representatives can be secured for the proposed amendment it being admitted that the failure on the part of any State to vote upon this proposition to amend the Constitution will count as though that State did vote against it The ratification of a submission of the measure to the States becomes easy of solution, though ten States are yet in a state of civil chaos, by reason of the rebellion

A REBEL'S REASONS FOR DESERTING —The Chattanooga Gazette says a rebel deserter lately gave the following reasons for forsaking Jeff Davis' confederacy:

"I have been in the rebel army for nearly three years and when I first entered the army the Confederacy was composed of fifteen States, for at least I was made to believe so

Well, at the end of the first year's war, we could claim but thirteen States, at the end of the second year's war, but nine, and now we can claim only the whole State, and we can claim parts of six States —Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia

Thus we have lost more than two thirds of the original Southern Confederacy.

This is not the sum total of our loss either for we have lost equally as heavy in men, money, and credit, as we have in territory.

Our troubles are increased every day, for we have lost all the country depended on to supply our army with rations When we yielded the Mississippi river, all the fine Texas beef cattle were cut off This is an insupportable loss to the Confederacy Tennessee and Southern Kentucky were our dependence for much of our corn, wheat and bacon—to say nothing of horses for cavalry This was a great loss

Last Tennessee furnished us nitre and coal, too, is gone! And our armies are now forced back into the poorest parts of the South, where it is impossible to supply either food or raiment for any length of time. Thus shows that the chance for Southern independence is quite slim, and I saw it was folly to be fighting always without any hope of gaining the day or even benefitting ourselves. This war would stop right away if it was not for the big men of the South. They know they'll be hung if caught, and they will keep up the war just as long as they can"

DEMOCRACY THE CHAMPION OF SLAVERY —Almost solitary, without companionship save that of Despotism, the Democratic party of the United States withstands the march of Freedom. In its unequal encounter with that omnipotent adventurer, it has been shivered to atoms! That which was once so compact, so haughty, so dictatorial and popular, is now rent to repellant fragments, is down in the valley of humiliation, begging an ignominious pence of the public enemy, and so poor in reputation that it has become the victim of rebuke just and and derisive protestor. It has lagged behind the age, while endeavoring to hold up for the fellowship of a better civilization what was only fatal error in the darker ages, and which is now wholly abominable to both Christianity and Humanity We need not say to reading people that for ages the Church of Rome has been rolling its ecclesiastical thunders on the track of the slave trade, that the Protestant churches have been unanimous in their anathemas of the traffic in human flesh that of all the paramount influences in the world, civil and religious, the Democratic party of the United States has been the last champion of a barbarism proscribed on earth, accursed by Heaven. And still that party undismayed by condensing thunders from the Vatican, unmoved by the uplifted hands of all Christendom, clings to its swarthy idol with a tenacity and infatuation greater than that of the idolatrous Ephraim, when God commanded him to be abandoned in his obduracy And still it struggles on, amid the pangs of dissolution and the throes of exorcism, hooting its barbarous orgies in the enlightened city of San Francisco, advancing its obsolete and detestable doctrines in public prints, from which a free loving people move in disgust, as they would shun the spotted viper that voids his useless venom on the rock —S. F. Flag

SPIRITUAL PROPHECIES —Andrew Jackson Davis (the seer) in the Herald of Progress, makes the following important (if true) announcement

The most important intelligence received recently is to the effect that, after six more battles two of them to be hand to hand encounters, the war will be over and peace declared under the Stars and Stripes Stonewall Jackson is positive that all this will come to pass before the next harvest is gathered in the grain fields Gold will take a downward track to May and July. Government credit will be firm for ten years after peace is declared, when another war with old England is probable France will be the first to receive punishment from America A republican form of government will soon be guaranteed to the Southern States "Bullet and bombshells" is a better cry for abolitionism than "Freedom and freedom" Force and pluck, not men and propositions, are in demand General Butler and Jeff Davis are the best practical abolitionists. Others are talkers and hangers on

SOUTHERN INDEPENDENCE —The following is "Parson" Brownlow's definition of a citizen of the so-called "Southern Confederacy"

"It is to have no father, nor mother, no wife, no sister, no lover, no house, no home, no corn, no wheat, no clothes no coffee, no no sugar, no rights, no privileges, no vote, no pursuit of happiness, no schools, no security, no representation, no advocate, no redress, no will, no liberty of speech, no self, no Bible no God, no hope of Heaven"

Many of the citizens of the Northern States are also badly off, but not quite so forlorn as their brethren in the South. The Copperheads have no country or Government, but plenty to eat, and especially plenty to drink they have no liberty of speech, want no schools, no God, or hope of Heaven —Appeal

SEWING MACHINES —Of the many inventions and improvements of sewing machines, none have so effectually stood the test of time and service as Grover & Baker's They have taken the highest premiums at the recent State Fairs of the United States they have moreover received the warmest encomiums from all persons who have ever used the machines and those who have had opportunity to compare the many different styles of machines generally pronounce Grover & Bakers to be the best They do the work neatly and well, run quietly and are readily adapted to any kind of sewing We would advise our lady readers, who are in want of a sewing machine, to call at Grover & Baker's —Brooklyn Standard

Information wanted of M S Spilt, an formerly of Grenville Butte county, California, and last from San Francisco for Oregon in June 1861 Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by the Hibernia Savings and Loan Society San Francisco or by his brother P S Sullivan, Brush Creek P O, Butte county, California

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18 —Eastern news to last night, this evening, and we expect no intelligence in the morning

About 11 000 votes were polled in this city yesterday and the People's party elected all their officers except three supervisors

In the fourth district last night after the election, a disturbance occurred The mob overpowered the police and the provost guard came to the rescue with drawn sabres and restored the order

By the Golden City, which arrived this morning we have important news from South American War Between Spain and Peru, and Spain has ships of war blockading the ports of Chincha Islands, and have threatened to capture a Peruvian steamer at Callao This intelligence will operate to the serious detriment of the prosperity of our shipping interests generally, and in the guano trade, which is extensively carried on with Chincha Islands The U S of ornithers numbering some 100 ballots, at Callao, and passed the following

Resolved, That being shipwrecked at this point, we protest against the wanton and unprovoked conduct of the Spanish Admiral Pinzon, and confidently with our ideas of justice, we offer the country of our adoption such assistance, and we hereby place ourselves at the disposal of the American government to fight for the independence of Peru

A number of the merchants have already sent their families by the steamer to the coast and the remainder will follow by the next steamer Business is entirely suspended and all foreigners are leaving the country The proposition will be carried out

Maximilian now has the throne of Mexico and the empire is not trying to get information Expected here from Acapulco has arrived from Victoria

THE NEW MEXICAN NOMINATIONS —Upon Mexican matters we refer to the telegraphic report to-day and the steamer's exclusives.

LINCOLN AND HAMLIN —Both Jefferson Davis' organs and hear to the claims of the Lincoln and Hamlin ticket Secretary James M Mason as the Duke de Rivoli Count Palmerola of Cape Cod and Count Mason of Lapland Joe Warren, transferred to the Castle Caramel and Nampa, Mexico for Senator Slidell Lord of the Chariots in Commission at Grand Duke to come to the White House for Vice Pompadour, Grand Chancellor of the Exchequer of Plaudonville, having no sovereigns of his own and none for his master is well prepared to support the title of Prince Regent of Two Dynasties, for ex Senator Robert Toombs Marquis de Roomfrance commander of the war fleets of the empire and Master of the Bull Calls on Bunker Hill &c, &c The Court of Maximilian I will rarely rival that of his Imperial Majesty Soulouque of Hayti, for magnificence and rags

A SPECIMEN COPPERHEAD —The Chicago Times announces Gen Burnside's intended visit to that city in the following very choice and startling language

The Butcher of Fredericksburg and attempted assassin of the liberty of speech and of the press in the Northwest, is coming to Chicago on the invitation of sundry abolitionists, who propose we believe, to make a public exhibition of him some time during the day They are not parties for the performance and he is a fit object for their adulation He is not much of a sight however He was not the head butcher and assassin, he was only the creature, the mere instrument the puppet the jumping-jack of the principal butchers and assassins He did not conceive the butchery and assassination, he does not rise to anything so grand as that he was the ruffian procured to do the crimes than which character none is so detestable in the eyes of mankind It is this ruffian who will be on exhibition in some public place in Chicago, surrounded by even more ruffians than himself He will have spectators, as other monstrosities do, but it must be a singularly morbid mind that will enjoy the repulsive spectacle

WHITTLED DOWN —The famous oak tree under which Generals Grant and Pemberton met and agreed upon terms for the surrender of Vicksburg, on the 3d of July last, has been cut to pieces by soldiers who wished to obtain the souvenirs of the memorable event Not satisfied with appropriating the trunk and branches, they have burrowed into the earth and seized every root which could be secured as relics Persons who have in their possession a very small piece of this wood prize it very highly

Mr. E. Hockaday stated that he was induced to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs from the recommendation of others He gave it to a child eleven months old, also used it in his family generally, for coughs and colds, and in every instance found immediate relief, and that he would not be without it Mr. J. B. Miller states that he used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs with great benefit to himself, he was entirely relieved of a severe cough His neighbor was bleeding at the Lungs to whom he administered a part of one bottle and it entirely cured him Mr. John Davis was cured of a severe cough and also gave it to his infant child for the whooping cough and says it is the most effectual of medicines Mr. James N. Harden of Rock Creek wished it proclaimed everywhere that his daughter aged sixteen years, was severely afflicted with cough and bleeding at the Lungs for seven months She took nine bottles and well by using part of one bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Mr. Wm. Harden testifies that his wife was greatly afflicted with cough and suffering much with pain in her breast and side also her little daughter, aged two years, but so greatly suffered with phthisic that her life was despaired of Both mother and daughter found relief in using Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. These are a few of the many testimonials I have received in favor of your great Lung Remedy and if you desire, I can send many more which have come to my knowledge Respectfully yours, I D SMITH, Richmond Ky July 15, 1863 Sold by REDINGTON & CO 416 and 418 Front street San Francisco who are also agents for the Pacific Coast for the sale of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, and we would direct the attention of those who suffer from scrofula eruptions or any other impurity of the blood to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, as it will cleanse the blood and permanently expel it from the system the cause of the disease, thereby restoring health and vigority to the system Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is compounded upon scientific principles and with great care We do not pretend it is a cure all nor that it will in all cases, and under all circumstances it is absolutely infallible Common sense teaches us that the day of Miracles has passed, but a good and reliable medicine and on the strength of these we call attention to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. The noble science of medicine is controlled by the same powers which govern the entire world. Were the invalid patients simply to take this medicine for scrofulous humors such as goitre, syphilitic or scrofulous tumors, ulceration of the bones, etc., and how many would be saved from a but very painful death, for unless persevered in the money expended for it is to a great extent thrown away, as blood is the source of life and Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is the only medicine of the day which is capable of thoroughly purifying the blood and the Yeppitation of the organs is injured The use of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is the only medicine the secretion of the absorbent vessels which commence receiving or taking up certain substances known as virus or poisonous principles, and removing them from the diseased parts through the various channels until they are carried from the system by the same time good blood is transported through the vessels to the diseased parts Sold by DENNISON & CO Agents 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco and Retailed by all Druggists

PEACOCK SPIT.—The point or bar at the entrance of the Columbia river known as "Peacock Spit," derives its name from a circumstance that happened in July 1841, by which an American man-of-war, the Peacock, famous in the history of the war of 1812, was wrecked while employed in the United States exploring expedition of Commodore Charles Wilkes, in attempting to enter the river. It was first supposed that this was the spit upon which the schooner Jenny Jones ran aground on Saturday last, but that was a mistake: the place where she struck is known of late as "Woodpecker Spit," where the English schooner Woodpecker was wrecked, about four years ago, when going to sea. The "Peacock Spit" is noted for the dangers it presents to navigators, and being so critically situated has caused the loss of a large number of vessels, since the commencement of navigation on the north-western coast. From the year 1839, when Sir Edward Belcher surveyed the Bar in the British ship Sulphur, and grounded several times, the spot raked by the bottom of the Jenny Jones on Saturday last has been known as "Sulphur Spit," until the wrecking of the Woodpecker. The mouth of the Columbia presents a "boogerish" appearance to the uninitiated, but the currents are said to be always strong, and when the winds are not to be depended upon by sailing crafts, if the proper advantage is taken of the tides no fears need be entertained of a safe passage, and the oldest navigators in our midst say it is comparatively easy to make; but since 1840 an immense amount of iron, anchors and cable, have been deposited, and now lay rusting in the vicinity of the Peacock and Sulphur spits.

THE SANITARY MEETING.—On Tuesday evening at the Congregational Church was a great success; a good audience was present, nearly filling the house. There was some excellent singing, and the address of Rev Mr. Atkinson, the subject being "The Citizen Soldier," was eloquent and patriotic. A collection in aid of the work of the Sanitary Commission, was made, and we are glad to know that it amounted to over $700. A larger sum we think than was ever before contributed by any public meeting in the State. We learn that during yesterday the amount was increased by the donations of citizens to $1,100 in currency, and that Messrs. Ladd & Tilton, by a telegraphic order directed their correspondents in New York to pay that sum forthwith to the Commission. The right thing was done at the right time.

ARREST.—Sheriff Ladd arrested a man by the name of Stanley yesterday, charged with stealing between 3,000 and $4,000, in money and valuables at Placerville, California, from his employer, who has followed him thus far. The parties are somewhat on the order and disposition of gipsies, and it appears that the money stolen was taken from a box fastened to the under part of the wagon owned and occupied by the plaintiff, who affirms that the prisoner was knowing to the fact, and the principal accusations are based upon circumstances. The case is said to have been once tried in Placerville, but will undergo examination this morning before Recorder McCoy.

IN ADVANCE OF THE SEASON.—Col. John McCraken, who always seems to be lucky, when frosts or drouth trouble the gardens of others—though we rather think that careful attention is the chief cause—placed on our table yesterday some luscious and magnificent strawberries, of the Hovey seedling variety, and choice of the Early Purple Cigne variety. They astonished us, and we put our "best foot" towards them in admiration: a second more we should have been able to tell how they tasted, but greedy fingers interposed, and they disappeared from our sight forever. But we know that they were good, and a great credit to the skill and industry of the generous donor.

GOLD DUST.—The steamer New World arrived from the Cascades at an early hour yesterday afternoon, bringing 45 passengers, and about eight hundred pound of gold dust! We are assured upon the most reliable authority, that the amount in the hands of passengers could not fall much short of 500 pounds, and Mr. Holland, Messenger of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, had in charge 350 pounds, so it will be a safe calculation to place the aggregate amount as above stated. This is the beginning of what is to come the present year, from a region comparatively undeveloped, and we look for similar receipts frequently.

TELEGRAPH TO THE SOUND.—Mr. R. R. Ward, Superintendent of the State Telegraph, has returned from his trip of observation to Puget Sound, and will commence immediately a line of telegraph from this city to Olympia via. Vancouver. The route has been found to be about as feasable as the route through Oregon. The line will cross the Willamette between Portland and its mouth, and will cross the Columbia near Vancouver. May abundant success attend the enterprise.

LOSSES BY THE SCHOONER JENNY JONES.—The aggregate of the losses sustained by the grounding of the schooner Jenny Jones, will amount to about $5,000, according to the value set upon the vessel and cargo before leaving Victoria, as compared with estimates of the present worth. Upon what terms the losses will be adjusted we are unable to state, but very likely the "general average" system will be adopted, by which all parties interested will lose a certain portion, equalizing the whole, in which case Capt. Jones shares the damages.

HANDSOME BIRDS.—Capt. Van Bergen has been presented with two pairs of beautiful birds, by the proprietor of the town at Pumphrey's Landing, on the Cowlitz river. They are of the Jay and Pigeon species, and have retained the colors of their plumage as bright as when flying wild in the forest. They are said to be quite easily domesticated, when taken young.

FRONT STREET.—The repairs to the planking of Front street are only for temporary use, and before two seasons more roll around we expect to see an established grade, finely paved, with all the proper foot-crossings, take the place of the present dilapidated and superannuated thoroughfare, which renders the appearance of our city worse than the Roman empire when invaded by the northern nations.

ACCIDENT YESTERDAY.—As Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Corbett were riding on the Macadamized road yesterday, the bridle bit broke in the mouth of their horse, which started to run, throwing the parties violently from their carriage, but fortunately inflicting no injury.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES.—The democracy of Portland appointed the following delegates yesterday, who are chosen to represent the city in the approaching County Convention, for the nomination of candidates to the offices of the county:

North Portland—H. C. Leonard, J. W. Jordan, T. J. Holmes, W. Chase, A. L. Bacon, Ben. L. Norden, Joseph Ter Ser, Lewis Hill, Wm. Sherlock, Jas. Burke, Wm. P. Burke, Thos. G. Robinson, J. G. Castle, B. Gallaghan, Arthur Sibrel, Lyle H. A. Cole, D. Wright, L. F. Mosher.

South Portland—J. Kerchens, A. P. Shuller, W. Beck, Lansing Stout, M. O'Connor, L. F. Protzman, F. G. Prager, J. W. Sutton, R. Burton, A. M. Snyder, F. Gates, J. Blanchard, Levi Knott, M. Burkheimer, M. Mesenwitz, S. Schwartz, D. W. Dwyer, J. McNamee, Curtis Palmer, Jos. Bergman.

Protection No. 4.—Special Meeting this evening at ½ o'clock. By order, W. T. PATERSON, Sec'y.

Vancouver Sanitary Aid Society.—The members of the above Society are requested to attend the next Regular Meeting, at the M. E. Church, Vancouver, on Thursday, May 19th, for the purpose of completing all unfinished business for the past year. Also for the election of officers for the ensuing six months.
ANNIE C. COVINGTON, Sec'y.

NOT TOO GOOD.—If you buy the best you buy the cheapest. Shelby has the best, most general and well selected stock of boots and shoes to be seen in this market. We do not propose to advise, but an examination of his stock before buying elsewhere is our reasonable conclusion.

Rebekah Meeting.—There will be a meeting held in the Degree of Rebekah, on Thursday evening, May 19, at the Hall of Samaritan Lodge No 2, I. O. O. F. Members of the order in good standing are invited to attend.
By order of N. G.
Portland, May 12, 1864.

Jaundice.—This yellow coloration of the skin is characteristic of an increased secretion of bile, or of its passage into the blood, in consequence of some obstruction in the circulation of the liver. Being itself but a symptom, the cause must be attacked in the central diseased organ; and simple experience proves that the PERUVIAN SYRUP acts in a wonderful manner in stimulating the liver to the proper performance of its duty.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26dlm

The Heroine of Gettysburg.

[The Harrisburg Telegraph calls for a monument to Jenny Wade, the heroine of Gettysburg. She was making bread for our army during the battle, having refused to leave her house, which was in range of both armies, and was shot through the heart.]

Rear high the monumental pile
Of marble pure and white
A life which gladdened earth erewhile
Has passed to realms of light
Rear high the monumental pile
To one who hated strife,
And tearful bards her fame the while
Perpetuate in song

CHORUS.—In the quiet churchyard sleeping
With our bravest fitly laid
Moans the wind through willows weeping,
O'er the grave of Jenny Wade

When man has done some gallant deed
We yield a wild acclaim,
And booming cannon speak the meed
Bestowed upon his name
If death on battle-field he braved,
And served his country well,
We wrap him in the flag that waved
Above him when he fell!
CHORUS.

When to the North wind Rebels throw
Their noisome traitor rag,
The courage of a woman true,
Upheld our dear old flag
Wherever that starry flag shall wave,
'Mid clouds or on the plain,
Remembered be thy hallowed grave—
For home and country slain,
CHORUS

Thy bright example still shall nerve
Our soldiers in the fight
Though dead, thy spirit yet shall serve
Freemen defending Right
The death a nation long shall mourn,
Thy deeds on bell'n arts
Thy name on breeze and billow borne
Thy memory in our hearts
CHORUS.—Fare thee well, brave spirit! never
Shall thy wreath of laurel fade—
Fragrant flowers shall bloom forever
O'er thy grave, sweet Jenny Wade

THE DYING WIFE.—The following most touching fragment of a letter from a dying wife to her husband was found some months after her death, between the leaves of a religious volume which she was fond of reading. The letter which was literally dim with tear marks, was written long before the husband was aware that the grasp of fatal disease had fastened upon the lovely form of his wife, who died at the early age of nineteen:

When this shall reach your eye, dear ——, some day when you are turning over the relics of the past, I shall have passed away, and the cold white stone shall be keeping the lonely watch over the lips you have so often pressed, and the sod will be growing green that shall hide forever from your sight the dust of one who has so often nestled close to your warm heart. For many long and sleepless nights, when all beside my thoughts were at rest, I have wrestled with the consciousness of approaching death, until at last it has forced itself upon my mind, and although to you and others it might now seem but the merest imagination of a girl, yet dear, it is so. Many weary hours have passed in the endeavor to reconcile me to leave you, whom I love so well and the bright world of sunshine and beauty and hard indeed it is to struggle on steadily and close with the sure conviction that I am about to leave all forever, and go down alone into the dark valley. Knowing in whom I have trusted and leaning upon his arm, I fear I could. Don't blame me for keeping even all that from you. How would I subject you of all others, to such sorrow as I feel at parting when one will soon make it apparent to you? I could have wished to live, if only to be a few years side when your time shall come and pillow your head upon my breast wipe the death damps from your brow, and usher the departing spirit into its Maker's presence enthroned in woman's holiest prayers. But it were vain to be so, and I submit. Yours is the privilege of watching, through long and dreary nights, for the spirit's final flight and transferring my sinking head from your breast to the Saviour's bosom! And you shall share my last thoughts and the last faint pressure of the hand, and the last kiss shall be yours and even when flesh and heart shall have failed me my eyes shall rest on yours until glazed by death and our spirits shall hold one last fond communion, until gently fading from view the last of earth, you shall mingle with the first bright glimpses of the unfading glories of that better world, where partings are unknown. Well do I know the spot, dear when you may lay me, often have we stood by the place and as we watched the mellowing sunset as it glanced in quivering flashes through the leaves and burnished the grassy mounds around us with strips of burnished gold, each perhaps, has thought that some day one of us would come alone, and whichever it might be your name would be on the stone. But we loved the spot, and I know you will love it none the less when you see the same quiet sunlight linger and play among the grass that grows over your Laura's grave. I know you will go often alone there, and my spirit will be with you then, and whisper among the waving branches, 'I am not lost but gone before.'"

A SENSATIONAL INCIDENT.—Two gentlemen of high birth, the one a Spaniard and the other a German having ordered Maximilian H. many serfs as they each, for recompense, demanded his natural daughter, Helena, in marriage. The prince, who entertained equal respect for them both could not give either the preference and after much delay, told them that from claims they both had to his attention and regard, he could not give his daughter either of them to marry his daughter and they must decide it by their own prowess and address; but as he did not wish to risk the loss of either, or both, by suffering them to fight with offensive weapons, he had ordered a large bag to be brought, and he who was successful enough to put his rival into it, should obtain his daughter. This arrangement combat between two gentlemen was in the presence of the whole imperial court, and lasted half an hour. At length the Spaniard yielded to the German, Andre Eberhard, Baron of Tetherd, who, when he got him into the bag, took him on his back and placed him at the Emperor's feet, and on the following day married the beautiful Helena.

A SHARP YOUTH.—A company of surveyors at work in the neighborhood of the Waterloo House, last Saturday, encountered a little white haired boy, about seven years old, who on seeing the flag in the hands of the flag man—which was only painted in red and white—curtly said "You're Secesh. Why don't you have blue on your flag?" The flag man was taken by surprise, not expecting such a joke from such a source, and tried to explain to the little fellow that for such business any thing in the shape of a signal was used for a flag. But he was not satisfied, and also put in as an objection to the obnoxious flag that it "didn't have stars on nuther," and he reckoned 'the whole set was Jeff Davis darn," and he would "tell his mamma to set the dogs on 'em and drive 'em out'n the field." Inasmuch says he intends to have a whole Union flag painted for use in that neighborhood.—Stockton Independent

The preacher was thought master of his art who told his congregation that they were the "chickens of the Church, the sparrows of the spirit, and the sweet swallows of salvation."

Harper's Weekly says that "the man who plants a birch tree near a school house, little knows what he is conferring on posterity." He probably means "posterity's posteriors."

Sheep.

A recent visit to the great sheep raising section of Vermont, leads to some remarks under this head. The most important breed of sheep at the present day, as regards the quality of the wool is the Spanish merino, which are supposed to have been derived from western Asia, where they flourished in the time of the patriarchs. These sheep were brought to this country from Spain in 1802, by Hon David Humphreys, U S Minister to Spain. They are remarkable for the combined quality and quantity of their wool, which is long, fine, soft, twisted in silky, spiral or wavy ringlets, very oily, and consequently dingy with dirt on the outside, but beautifully white underneath. Their horns are very large and heavy and twisted. At the time these sheep were introduced there was no machinery in the country adapted to spinning so long wool. Considerable attention was devoted to inventing and perfecting suitable machinery, which resulted successfully so far as the machinery was concerned, but was the occasion of pecuniary embarrassment to the parties, and the flocks were sold, and eventually removed to Vermont. We lately visited the farm of Edwin Hammond, Esq., at Middlebury, who has a large flock, and is a very successful breeder of these sheep, which he sells at almost fabulous prices. He said that he had sold the last spring ten sheep for $2,500 cash, and eleven more for $3,000. His son sold six for $2,000. Mr H showed us a buck for which he lately refused $1,500. At the last spring shearing he sheared from this sheep twenty-three lbs. of wool, and three years ago he sheared twenty-seven pounds. From one of his yearlings, he sheared last spring twenty one pounds. Mr. H has several sheep valued at $1,000 each. He was offered the sum of $20,000 for fifty sheep, to be selected from his flock, but he declined the offer. As illustrating the value of this variety for crossing with others, Mr. Hammond related the case of a farmer in New York, who bought a buck of him for—we think—$1,200. The farmer had a flock of Saxon sheep from which he had sheared three and a half pounds per head, on the average. He raised from this flock in two years about one hundred and sixty lambs, crossed with his $1,200 merino. At the second shearing he obtained nine pounds of washed wool per sheep, average for the whole flock—thus receiving, in the difference of wool, at present prices, equivalent to, about twice the weight of his buck in silver. It was this breed of sheep, and from this original flock, that the sheep were taken which recently received the first premium at the World's Fair at Hamburg. And what must have surprised our European friends, is the fact that the specimens which took the prize from them were not the best of the flock, for Mr Campbell, anticipating that he would be excelled by his competitors, took out his second quality animals, so that his loss might not be too great. He not only took the first prize for his second rate animals, but sold the flock, twelve in number, for $5,000. The award of the prize to this flock excited much ill feeling among the competitors, but they were effectually silenced by the offer of Mr. Campbell to test the fairness of the award by shearing the sheep, conditioned upon certain forfeitures to the successful competitor.

Truly the comparison of Scripture in old time—"How much better is a man than a sheep?" will hardly hold in these days, when sheep are sold for $1,500 each, and men, in some parts of our country, for a half or a third part of that sum!—Andover (Mass.) Advertiser.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup presents a cure is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A A HAYES M D,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless until Dr Henry Anderz, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr J R Chilton of this city, and Prof Booth U S Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended by practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 76.)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchites, etc

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color, hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.
